

BOSCON 2018 Quality Conference

March 19th & 20th

Call for Papers

Conference Theme: Quality - A Worldwide Imperative for the Future

The 21st century isn't coming, it is already here! The human race now has the challenge of living and working in a diverse and rapidly changing world. We must prepare ourselves to understand and address global issues and the world around us from a systematic and globally known set of standards... This is QUALITY.

It is within this vein of thought, that ASQ Boston invites you to the Royal Sonesta in Cambridge, MA to the 34th BOSCON Quality Conference hosted by ASQ – Boston. Our theme, Quality – A Worldwide Imperative for the Future, is a challenge to humanity to push the need to solve worldwide issues through the use of quality in our professional and personal lives.

Each year hundreds gather at this BOSCON quality conference to share best practices, expand their network, and further develop their professional and personal growth from experts and professionals in multiple quality related fields. At this time, ASQ Boston invites these experts and professionals to submit papers to BOSCON 2018 for the honor of presenting at this year's quality conference. We invite you to share your innovative methods, tested solutions, and proven results to be presented to an audience from many different countries, backgrounds, and industries.

To learn more about the annual quality conference please visit us at www.asqboston.org/boscon-2017.
