

Conference Overview

Quality Leaders, Practitioners, Advocates and Customers gathering to network, learn and exchange ideas and thoughts on “Quality – A Worldwide Imperative for the future.” Two days of conference activities on March 19 & 20. Post Conference training March 21 – 23. Conference sponsorship opportunities allow you to connect with these members of the quality community.

Who Are Your Prospects

The conference attendees are customers who purchase products and services supplied by the quality industry for: manufacturing, software, business services, consulting, education, training, engineering, design and construction, healthcare and other industries.

As a sponsor your organization or business will get direct access to the professionals who influence decisions on what goods and services are purchased by their firms to meet their needs to provide quality products and meet quality compliance requirements.

We expect to have 200 attendees at the conference, and will also distribute marketing material that will include information about our Top Tier Sponsor through mail, emails and section events that will reach thousands of quality professionals and business leaders.
